

BUILDING KEEPS UP ACCELERATED PACE IN TOWNSHIP

Many Projects Are Planned For Future In Area

ROGERS ROAD SITE Tract Purchased With Capacity For 180 Homes

That a building "boom" is underway in Bucks County is not to be doubted—a drive around the many highways and side roads in lower Bucks County will convince one that the lower end is probably being built up to a greater extent than any part of the county.

"And what is taking place at present is nothing compared to what building will be done within the next few years" comments one interested party.

On the Ferguson tract at Fergusonsville a number of houses are now in the course of erection or have been completed; and plans are advancing for a large number of houses on a tract bordering Rogers road, Bristol township.

Mrs. C. Burnley White, Bensalem township, has negotiated for purchase of approximately 23 acres of land on Rogers road, Bristol township, from Mrs. Gertrude Obidzinski. This plot is in the process of being developed, with plot plans now being drawn up. The project is to be F.H.A. approved.

Two builders are prepared, as soon as plot plans are completed, to start building operations. One of the builders is Vincent Gardens, Inc., and interested in the other plans is Edwin Ferguson, Philadelphia.

It is stated that the plot will have a capacity of 180 houses, plans calling for erection of 75 or 80 this year. About 50 or 60 of these will be built by the Ferguson interests, and about 15 or 20 by Vincent Gardens, Inc. The former has definite orders, it is stated, for 15 houses, there. Of colonial and Cape Cod type, they will range in price approximately from $7800 to $10,000. Principally of frame construction, some will have two and some three bedrooms. Most will have basements. "There will be certain restrictions," it is stated.

On the land owned by Mrs. Lenore Ferguson at Fergusonsville, the Ferguson interests have built 13 houses, and will within the next four to six weeks complete 12 more, making 25 in all.

Of frame construction, with two bedrooms each, they will sell for about $7800.

Plan To Televise Some Federated Club Meetings

An arrangement has been made by the radio division of the State Federation of Women's Clubs to hold a series of sponsored televised federated club meetings and programs over station WCAU-TV Philadelphia, on channel 10.

The first of this series of half hour programs will be presented this afternoon at three o'clock. Southeastern district county presidents will attend. A portion of the program is furnished by the sponsor.

Each county will be assigned a day. On April 12, Bucks County Federation will be honored and Mrs. E. Wilmer Fisher, Morrisville, the president will be the speaker. The audience is to be comprised of county club women.

Later in the series, individual clubs may be given a day and a regular club meeting conducted by their president.

WATER CONSERVATION BY CONSUMERS HERE IS URGED BY CHAIRMAN OF WATER COMMITTEE WHO SAYS PER CAPITA CONSUMPTION IS HIGH

Water conservation by the consumers here was stressed Monday evening by Dennis J. Roche, chairman of the water committee of Bristol borough council. The per capita consumption here is given as 320 gallons which is said to be the highest in the country. Taking the per capita consumption as a basis, the water committee is of the opinion that there must be a "leak" unknown to the borough, or else there is a huge waste of water here. It is this waste of water that it is desired to prevent.

The water problem is being studied here in much detail. The feasibility of drilling a new well is being considered. Repairs are to be made to the tanks at the water pumping plant and the artesian wells now in operation, are to be processed in an effort to increase the flow. The water committee has also ruled that any further connections with the borough water system must be metered. The possibility of metering every water consumer has been considered but no definite action has been decided upon.

It is contended that selling water through a meter results in greatly curtailing the consumption with little or no loss of revenue. The very fact is now that consumers are free to use water without any thought of the quantity consumed results in unintentional waste. When water is sold through a meter the consumer is more thoughtful and watches how the water is used.

Mr. Roche in addressing borough council Monday evening urged that publicity be given to the water shortage in an effort to acquaint the public with the conditions as a means of encouraging a voluntary conservation of the supply.

Vernon King Is Declared By G-Men as "Extremely Dangerous"

PUBLIC AID SOUGHT

Herewith is the third in a series of articles describing America's "ten most wanted" criminals from a list furnished by the Federal Bureau of Investigation.

By James Lee

(U. S. Staff Correspondent) WASHINGTON, Mar. 15.—(INS)—A man charged with the murder of his wife is high on the list of the "ten most wanted" criminals in the United States today.

The FBI is searching for Morely Vernon King, who is charged with killing his wife nearly three years ago in San Luis Obispo, Calif. The G-Men declare that he goes armed and is "extremely dangerous."

A trunk containing the body of a woman was found July 9, 1947, under the back porch of a San Luis Obispo hotel. The woman had been strangled by a man's scarf tied around her neck. She had been dead approximately a week.

Through fingerprints, the FBI identified the woman as Mrs. Helen King. Her husband had been operating a dining room in the hotel for several months. He left San Luis Obispo July 8, 1947, about 3 a. m. Investigation revealed that King worked as usual in the dining room on July 1, but there was a "do not disturb" sign on the door of his

Sunday Milk Deliveries Are Being Eliminated

With Sunday milk deliveries eliminated by some dairies, others planning to eliminate such on Sunday, March 19th, and Sunday, March 26th, by the end of this month no dairy products will be delivered to Bristol and lower Bucks County households on Sundays.

Route men have been delivering milk on alternate days, meaning that fresh milk and other dairy products were received by householders every other day, or seven times in 14 days. In the future this will be changed to six times in 14 days, with a three day interval periodically for all.

Some routes have deliveries on Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays, making a three day interval from Friday until Monday; while those which are or will be served on Tuesdays, Thursdays and Saturdays, will experience a three day lapse from Saturday until Tuesday.

One local dairy points out that this is due to action on the part of the union with which drivers are affiliated.

One Bucks County dairy which delivers in Bristol commenced the Sunday holiday on March 12th; at least two local dairies plan to eliminate Sunday deliveries starting March 19th and 26th. A local dairy firm official stated that to his knowledge all dairies from out-of-town as well as those in Bristol will soon be on the new delivery schedule.

FERGUSONVILLE, Mar. 15.—An aged resident was found dead in his bed here yesterday afternoon. The deceased, William H. Crossland, 82, was found when he had failed for the past two days to answer the summons of a man delivering oil.

Crossland lived alone on Ritter avenue. His wife, Mary Jane, died about nine years ago. He was last seen about the premises by neighbors Sunday evening at about 11 o'clock. He had lived here for 22 years.

Monday, Louis Harris, driver for Clarence R. Breece Estate, Bristol, failed to get an answer to his knock on the door but thought that perhaps Crossland was in Bristol or elsewhere. Harris returned to the Crossland residence yesterday afternoon and when he again failed to get an answer to his summons he called neighbors and Harris broke a window and entered. John Breece also entered the house with Harris and found Crossland on the bed dead. He was wearing his night

Ex-Carnival Girl Steals Auto; Now in Bucks Jail

LANGHORNE, Mar. 15.—A young woman who formerly was engaged by a carnival was taken to Bucks County jail at Doylestown yesterday in default of $1000 bail, after she pleaded guilty to a charge of larceny of an automobile.

The young woman, Patricia Ethel Whitfield, 38, (alias Scotty Johns), of Miami, Fla., took a 1948 Chrysler "town and country" car, owned by Alvin B. Cadwallader, Bristol road, Oakford, from in front of a Neshaminy Falls hotel, according to police. It is stated that she drove a distance of about five miles, then parked along the Roosevelt boulevard, Philadelphia, where about two hours later park guards discovered her asleep. According to officers she was visibly under the influence of either drink or a drug. She is said to have admitted taking the car, and blamed her condition on the fact that she occasionally has "spells" and takes medicine for such.

She was queried at Langhorne state police barracks, and a hearing followed before Justice of the Peace Horace Cooper, here. The Whitfield woman explained that she didn't want the car, she merely wished to get back to Florida.

GUIDED MISSILESThose who heard retired Admiral W. H. P. Blandy speak in New York the other day will probably remember longer than anything else his flat statement that the battleship in its present role is as "dead as a dodo." It may have been something of a shock coming from a man long considered a "surface admiral."A capsule description of the nation's present overall strategy—
what is known of it—goes something like this: Assuming the United States is attacked, by air or otherwise, our strategic air force will immediately send its long range bombers over the enemy territory with atomic missiles in the bomb bays.Meanwhile the tactical air force will carry enemy forward points and will lay the groundwork for seizure of advance bases and airfields by Army or Marine units.
The Navy will start guarding the coastlines, protecting the movement of supplies overseas, and hunting down and killing enemy submarines.With the exception of a few refinements it is the same broad plan that achieved victory for the United States in World War II.
A dress rehearsal of it has just been carried out by the three services in the Caribbean, and the Defense Department seems to think it was a great success. Fine, but what about long-range guided missiles? Wouldn't they obviate the whole reason for being of this trained striking force?Admiral Blandy pointed out that Russians were said to be building three battleships intended as guided missile launchers. The Navy, which probably has done more in guided missile research than other units of this country's military might, has only reached the freshman stage in shipboard rocket launchings. Perhaps this country lags in this field. The admiral didn't say. But he indirectly posed a question about this phase of preparedness.NO CAUSE FOR JITTERSGen. Omar N. Bradley, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, answers alarmists, in and out of the armed services, who have been saying that the United States would be easy prey in a war with the Soviet. That's not so, General Bradley declared.On the contrary, he reported,
the nation is developing defenses
which will enable it to meet successfully any military attack and to insure ultimate victory.While the reassuring words of General Bradley are to be warmly welcomed by a somewhat jittery people, his further advice to the nation is no less important. Americans should think "sensitively, calmly and clearly" about national security and settle into a long-range plan of defense.The nation is particularly warned against trying to match
the Soviet "plane for plane, ship
for ship, or division for division"
—which is just another way of stating the truism that equipment alone is not the determining factor in war. How and where it is used more often settles the issue.At the "Y"Paragraphs of Interest to

PROFY FIVE WINS CHAMPIONSHIP OF BRISTOL BASKETBALL LEAGUE, BY NOSING OUT FRANKLIN, 47 TO 45

The Profy five won the regular season championship of the Bristol Basketball League by barely nosing out the Franklin team, 47-45, last night in a well-played game on the high school floor.

By virtue of its victory, the Profy team regained the seasonal championship it lost to the St. Ann's team last year. Profy will play the Hibernians in an elimination game Thursday night. In the first game, the Franklin team will play Tullytown.

Poor shooting from the foul line cost the Franklin team the season's crown. Bert Barabeta's boys had 27 shots from the charity line and converted but 11 of these. Franklin also missed several "duck" shots towards the finish of the contest. In the last two seconds, Wallick's shot hit the rim and bounded out.

Failure to stop "Johnny" Pindar also helped the Franklin boys to go down to defeat. "Johnny" had a hard time in the last period, being held scoreless from the field but his twenty-eight points was the difference between victory and defeat for the radiomen. Pindar gave his best exhibition in the second quarter when he scored three double-doubles within the space of 15 seconds. In all he had 11 field goals and six out of seven fouls.

"Ham" Konefal scored three fielders early in the last quarter which ultimately proved to be the Profy margin of victory. As the Franklin team guarded Pindar with two men, Konefal took to shooting and made his trio of baskets.

The Franklin team staged a spirited rally in the final session which almost carried them to victory. It was behind by a 42-38 count about mid-way in the session when it started to shake the net from all corners of the floor. Slowly but surely it sliced into the Profy lead until with two minutes to go, the score was 46-40. Keys made a twin-pointer and Wallick followed with a leaping shot that dropped in to bring the count to 46-44. Burton fouled Lelinski and he converted one and took the ball out on the side on the waiving of the second shot. With fourteen seconds to go, Franklin tried desperately but could not hit pay dirt.

"Howie" Keys had 17 points for the losing team with "Bill" Wallick having 13. Joe Natale did a fine job of guarding for the Profymen.

At half-time, the Warders had a 27-13 lead on the Bensalem team.

ate of Pennsylvania Law School, and earned his degree there in 1931. "Back in January of 1943," Dr. Abersold said, "I was with the War Department, where it was part of my duties to help regulate wages and salaries in all government plants. We set up rates and job evaluations for all jobs done by the government. There were 2,176,000 civilians during the peak years that we had to set rates for. The main thing we used for a key was a fair day's work for a fair day's pay. This is the key to all employee relations problems. Any company that leaves a worker ill paid for a fair day's work is not doing its proper service responsibility to its community. Wages is what every worker is most interested in. I believe that wages have reached a point now where they will become more stabilized. The workers will benefit from this, as the workers' real wages are shown as prices move down since his wage dollar will go farther and have much more buying power.

"The people have about reached a point where they will not pay higher prices. Thus we must have job evaluation, and to do this we must educate the foremen to the economical factors involved. Industry in general owes responsibility to its foremen to educate them so that they can answer efficiently any questions the workers might have about his wage problems. This is part of the job of doing job evaluation. All supervision has a fundamental part in whether you pay a fair day's wages for a fair day's work. There are many ways to measure this. One way is by merit; another is job evaluation. When you use merit it often breaks down, unless it is kept straight on a merit basis. In job evaluation you have a lot to study. One thing is the responsibility and duties of the job, and what other companies are paying for the same type of work. The best place to find out about the duties of the job is from the foreman. Management seems to never consult the foreman on wage rates, yet no one knows better than he does as to what the job is and how the employee works.

"There are other factors that have to be considered in job evaluation, such as length of service. You do not find this in many plants, yet it does enter into a fair day's pay for a fair day's work. Promotion possibility also is not often found in plans of job evaluation. I wonder if this is a factor we have failed to consider. Most workers feel that it should be a big part of the plan in what constitutes a fair day's work, as any worker who knows he is at a dead-end on his job cannot do a good job. So it also comes right back to the foreman. He needs to be educated on more of the company's policies. No foreman can do an efficient job with the rank and file workers if he does not know the answers. He should be told just where the company is in the business cycle, as all this and many other things control the wages, and all the worker is really interested in is his wages."

In closing, Dr. Abersold said: "To arrive at a fair day's wages for a fair day's work is controlled by the general market. The cost of living and the point of business in its cycle. Also what is the position to total costs. You must always think in total cost to labor cost in fixing prices; thus wage increases may mean less jobs in a lot of cases."

Dr. Abersold answered questions asked by those present.

George School

NEWTOWN, Mar. 15—Having finished off school work, a week-long trip to Washington by one group and the traditional Senior Prom dance at Torresdale, George School's 436 students are scattering all over the country now for a 10-day spring vacation.

The winter sports season ended a week before vacation with the girl swimmers of Coaches Eleanor Hess and Anne McCarthy dropping a 31-32 thriller at Haverford High. Over a three-month span three boys and two girls varsity teams played out a 49-game winter schedule in basketball, swimming and wrestling.

Most of the school's boarding students are heading for homes in 26 states, while those from overseas and George School's more than 100 day students won't be going quite as far away.

Nash sales growth since the war has been more than 4 times as great as that of the Automotive Industry as a whole . . .

WHY NASH?

*In the four post-war years just ended, Nash sales have increased 95.7% over the same period previous, while the industry registered only a 21.3% gain, post-war over pre-war.

flyte cars by scientific wind tunnel test have been proved to have 20.7% less air drag than the average of 10 other cars tested — with noticeably less wind-noise, less fuel consumption, and noticeably greater stability.

Why Nash? Because Nash was first to attack the problem of rust by Bonderizing and by more durable baked enamel.

Because today all sheet metal parts of a Nash Airflyte are many times more resistant to wear and fading.

Why Nash? Because today's Nash Airflytes offer more combined passenger and luggage space, dollar for dollar, than any other car.

Why Nash? Because Nash has been years ahead in the development of the car interior. First to have the curved, one-piece wind-shield on all models, and Uniscoop — and today is the only car offering an Airline Reclining Seat and Twin Beds.

Why Nash? Because Nash has consistently led in the power parade — builder of valve-in-head engines for a third of a century — a leader in high compression.

Because today Nash alone builds a valve-in-head engine of 7.3 to 1 compression ratio that utilizes regular gasoline.

Why Nash? Because Nash was first with automatically-controlled, pressurized heating and ventilation, probably the greatest single health, comfort and safety feature of the modern automobile.

Because today's Nash Weather Eye Conditioned Air System is still first in efficiency and in safety — with fresh, untainted air drawn from outside, above the engine compartment.

Why Nash? Because Nash has been first and foremost in advocating — and delivering — greater gasoline mileage.

Because Nash today builds a big full-size car that delivers more than 25 miles to the gallon at average highway speed.

Why Nash? Because Nash was first to mass-produce the Unitized, welded body-and-frame car that is more rigid, durable, safer and free of squeaks and rattles.

Because today, 12 billion owner miles have proved that Unitized Nash Airflyte Construction has set a new standard for long life and economical operation.

Why Nash? Because today's Nash Air-
